The Swedish society "Norden" will give a grand Christmas dance in Turner Hall Friday evening.

Truant Officer Groff continues to report cases of truancy and parental disobedience of the school law.

A lot of laundry linen was found on Canal street yesterday by Harry Hage and is at police headquarters.

To-morrow will be Christmas. If you would not disappoint the little ones be sure and secure your presents to-day.

The chair factory, Sligh, Wordens and Stockwell & Durrah furniture factories have shut down for inventory and repairs.

Officer Robbins found the rear door of Mrs. Theodore Schultz's millinery store, No. 88 Canal street, open last night.

The Eureka Lodge No. 2, K. P., will nominate officers at their meeting Thursday night and hold their election the week following.

Mrs. Bridget Kearney, the mother of Patrolman Kearney, died in Saginaw yesterday. Notice of her funeral in this city will be published later.

The Park Congregational Sunday school will have a Christmas tree, a live Santa Claus, and other interesting exercises at the church Friday evening.

W. C. Wood and W. E. Beeson on Jan. 1st will begin a partnership under the firm name of Wood & Beeson, for transacting a general lumber business.

Mabley & Co. make an announcement on the third page of THE TELEGRAM this morning, which will be interesting to a large number of our readers.

The Valley City Milling Company have issued some handsome cards, advertising their famous "Snow Flake," "Lily White" and fancy patent roller-process flour.

Chancellor White, who strained himself a few days ago in getting out of the way of a runaway horse, is able to be upon the streets again, and the restaurant man smiles.

Frank A. Gladding, manager of the fine clothing department of Mabley & Co.'s great store in Detroit, is in the city arranging to open a branch store at 37 Canal street.

The stabbing affray reported to have occurred on Almy street Monday night, proves on investigation by Detective Gast to have been a quarrel of the most trivial proportions.

Antoinette Lange and her daughter Helena, convicted of larceny from a store, were sentenced to one and a half years in the Detroit House of Correction by Judge Parrish yesterday.

The alarm of fire from box 56 at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon was caused by a chimney burning out in a frame dwelling at 116 Jackson street, owned by John Cahill. No damage.

The Unitarian Sunday school children will meet at the Ladies' Literary club rooms to-night to rehearse for the Christmas service to be held in Powers' Opera House next Sunday evening.

Harry Arkema, formerly a resident of this city, died in Detroit Monday. His funeral will be held in this city on Friday, at 2 p. m., from his mother's residence, corner of Cass and Morrison streets.

Scarlet fever and measles were the only two cases reported yesterday to the Board of Health in the following order: The case of May Huntley, No. 151 Gold street, and baby Kisby, Leitch block, Ottawa street.

The Radical, that flourished for some time in this city and proved true to its name while it flourished, has suspended. W. J. Sprout, editor and proprietor, expects to become connected with the Allegan Democrat.

The hop at the Armory on Ionia street Monday evening was one of the most enjoyable affairs given this season by the Meadames Grace and Benedict. Next Monday evening is fixed for another occasion of the same kind.

John Vanderveld, aged nine years, and four other children will be sent to the Coldwater State School by the Overseers of the Poor to-day. Two of these are the Lange children, and two belong to the Lovell family in Wyoming township, near Grandville.

Prof. Henry Weed Clark, "State phenologist," delineated the mental characteristics of Col. M. C. Moore, Charles B. Gilling, W. W. Mitchell, of Ionia, T. N. Hentig, Clerk Abrams, Will A. Smith and others at the Morton last evening to the delight of a large audience.

A sleigh was tipped over yesterday afternoon in front of the Morton House by the runner striking the street-car track. The driver, a lady and a child, were thrown out of the sleigh, attempted to run away. No serious injuries were sustained by any person or thing concerned.

The fanciers of game chickens indulged their propensities last night at the Half-Way House. Feathers flew, and "guffed" roosters made bloody war in their limited amphitheatre for a couple of hours. Considerable money was said to have changed hands on the hazard of the best "birds."

The streets were alive with present-searching humanity yesterday, and the merchants in the best of humor. A Telegram reporter dropped into a few of the leading stores on Monroe street and inquired how trade was and they all agreed that their expectations were satisfied, and a few said business was better than at this time last year.

An impression seems to prevail in some localities that the recent arrest of John Farrell and E. T. McClure, of the Union Cafe for keeping their saloons open after hours, was done at the instigation of a representative of the Law and Order League. This is untrue, as the records in the Police Court show that the complaint was made by the Police Department.

A headache doctor was diagnosing the clerkly headpains of the city's brain power in the region of the Superior Court room yesterday evening. What he looked in his hands, as a specific, he was willing to make up in pills, squibs and paregoric. Marshal Green asked to be excused, while the doctor made his argument so complete that every man in the Marshal's office wished he had a headache for the follower of Esculapian to practice upon.

The V. C. Club Ball.

The first grand ball of the V. C. Club will be held at Metropolitan Hall, Wednesday evening, Dec. 27, 1894. The following is the Committee of Arrangements: John N. Myers, Frank E. Kern, A. Fyfe, P. Griffin, B. M. Champion, A. Lovell. Floor managers: Frank E. Kern, A. Lovell and A. Fyfe. The music will be furnished by Miller's full orchestra band.

SOME OBSERVATIONS

BY A PERIPATETIC OBSERVER.

The Knights and the Street Railway—A Tussle with an Alderman—The Millard Case, Etc.

The misunderstanding between the Knights of Labor and the Street Railway Company still continues, and the Peripatetic being unacquainted with the grievances on either side has no reason to express himself any further than to hope for the benefit of both parties that the trouble will be speedily settled. There was a rumor to the effect that the company and a committee of the Knights held a conference recently with the desire to adjust their differences, but this is denied, and the Knights will probably extend their opposition by introducing more desirable accommodations in the way of 'busses, herdsies, etc.

Some merriment was occasioned in the Council on Monday night on account of Alderman Whitney's ridiculous opposition to the Street Railway Company being allowed to use salt on their tracks in those streets where there is a grade. It was conceded by the rest of the Aldermen that some precaution must be taken to prevent accident, and no stronger argument can be cited in favor of their position than the fact that in going down grade on a slippery track it is impossible to control the car with the brake or anything else unless something is put upon the track to keep it in normal condition. Salt is the best remedy known for a slippery track, and it is used within the provisions of the ordinance no possible injury to other traffic in the street can follow.

One of the reporters on one of the daily papers had a word-tussle with one of the Aldermen, after the meeting of the Council on Monday night, on the matter of secret sessions. The daily mentioned had accused the Charter Committee of the Council with conducting their deliberations within closed doors. The Alderman protested that it was false, and the reporter insisted that he had tried to enter the committee room, but the door was locked and a voice inside intimated that he was not wanted. The two gentlemen parted as much at loggerheads as when they met. It is hoped that the Council is not fostering the notion of holding star conferences like some public bodies in the city, who possibly may deem themselves too aristocratic to allow the motley public to gaze upon their methods of transacting business which is of material interest to the numerous individuals who bear the pains and ills of reaching down into their breeches pocket and contributing their annual tithe known as tax.

The Millard case has attracted unusual interest, as it naturally would, as Grand Rapids courts grind through but few murder cases. This speaks well for the criminal record of the city. The present case is an important one. Inasmuch as the evidence is entirely circumstantial, comment upon which seems hardly called for until the jury have rendered their opinion, and it is expected that their verdict will be arrived at to-night. The attorneys of both sides speak in the highest terms of satisfaction regarding the rulings of Judge Montgomery, who has been careful and conscientious in giving all decisions, with a broad and thoughtful consideration—in all a most wise judge.

To-morrow will be "Merry Christmas," and it is hoped that every blessed ruddy-faced young one in town will receive a midnight visit from grey-bearded Santa Claus. Hanging up the stockings is an ancient custom and is followed by adults as well as children. That every home, family and every little boy and girl, old boys and girls, fathers and mothers and everybody within the limits of Western Michigan the Peripatetic wishes a Merry Christmas.

The three Colonels, scarcely mentioned of late, but not forgotten, are still alive and kicking, and inspired with new vigor in anticipation of having a corner on the "red brick" after the fourth of March. Col. No. One's confidence has so far influenced him that he contemplates the erection of a fancy brick kennel for "Danny" on the Government lot. The other Colonels smack their lips and smile as they whisper about the hirelings and menials crouching about them and kneeling for favors. One of them is under so many petty obligations of a social nature, that it will take a good many years service in a "fat office" to reciprocate all around. More anon. Well Bob, Bill and Mess here's a Merry Christmas to you, with the kind warning not to get the names attached to any petition for a local improvement pasted on your asking for office. Such a mistake (?) did occur here once upon a time.

The Fire Laddies' Supper.

The public reception and supper given by Fire Company No. 4, at their engine house last evening, was in every particular a complete success. Through the almost blinding storm people were coming and going until a late hour, and as near as can be estimated, about three hundred people partook of the nicely-prepared supper. Many members of the other fire companies and also of the police department were present, and rendered much aid in the entertainment of the guests. During the evening Mayor Belknap, George W. Thompson, Esq., and Superintendent of Police Perry made short speeches highly commendatory to Grand Rapids' efficient fire department.

BURNHAM.—The People v. Helena Lange, larceny from store. Motion for new trial denied.—Same v. Antonette Lange, larceny from store. Sentenced to the Detroit House of Correction for one year and six months.—Same v. Helena Lange, larceny from store. Sentenced to the Detroit House of Correction for one year and six months.—Same v. Wm. Murphy, robbery. Sentenced to Jackson penitentiary for five years.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION.

The Men Who it is Thought Robbed—Israel Smith Saturday Night.

Last evening Sheriff Kinney and deputies arrested Dick Sligh, "Pisty" Jennings and Wm. Madden, on suspicion of their being the burglars who committed the brutal and daring robbery at the home of Israel Smith, in Wyoming township, Saturday night. Some of the facts that led to the arrests are that on Saturday night Dick Sligh went to the livery stable of Jerome L. Lee 60 Waterloo street, and hired a horse and cutter, saying he wished it for only an hour. This was at 9:15 o'clock, and he said he wished the rig to take "his woman" out riding, as she was not feeling well. He returned the horse to the stable at one o'clock Sunday morning—nearly three hours after hiring it. The hostler reports that the horse was dripping wet, and in spite of his rubbing, continued to sweat freely for twelve hours; that ever since that drive it had been stiffened. The right front foot of the horse is "pigeon-toed," and the deputy sheriffs, who were sent to the scene of the robbery after Sheriff Kinney received the telephone message, found a peculiarity in the tracks they discovered in the snow that would seem to fit this foot. In the reports as to the time of the robbery there was some difference, but all accounts agreed that it occurred between 10 o'clock Saturday night and 1 o'clock Sunday morning. The distance to Mr. Smith's house to this city is six miles, and the drive could have been made inside of a half-hour with this horse on a run. Wm. Madden figured in a case before the Superior Court, Dec. 19, charged with breaking and entering a store, upon which charge he was found not guilty.

PERSONAL.

C. B. Leet is visiting Detroit for a few days.

David D. Erwin, of Muskegon, was in the city yesterday.

Harry G. Avery, of Jackson, is visiting friends in the city.

Col. Stockbridge, of Kalamazoo, returned home last evening.

Mr. Ed. M. Sears, of this city, is recruiting in the mountains of Vermont.

R. J. MacDonald, of Muskegon, was in the city yesterday on legal business.

Miss Lena Remington, of the Summerville Seminary, is spending the holidays at home.

"Senator" Joe Ford has received the appointment of custodian of the cloak room at Lansing.

Mr. D. D. Erwin, of the firm of Smith, Nims, Hoyt & Erwin, of Muskegon, was in the city yesterday.

Miss Anna Caulfield, who has been attending college at Detroit, has returned for the holiday vacation.

David McLaughlin, collector of customs for the Michigan district, residence at Muskegon, was in the city yesterday.

Miss Florence DeKrafft, of the Buffalo Seminary, and her brother, Stewart, of the Cromwell Heights Academy on the Hudson, are home for the holidays.

Mr. Jos. R. Elliott and wife are in the city visiting Mr. Elliott's mother, Mrs. D. C. B. Smith. Joe says Grand Rapids is one of the smartest towns in the country.

Hon. Isaac Marston left for Detroit last night, leaving behind many pleasant acquaintances, made during his two weeks' sojourn in the city, who will welcome him most heartily when occasion calls him to this city again.

Rev. P. Macfarlane has accepted a universal call to the rectorship of St. James church, Vincennes, Indiana, and will remove there with his family next week, beginning his new duties Jan. 1. He will conduct services in St. Paul's, West Side, on Christmas day and on Sunday next, which will be his last in this city.

The face of genial "Joe" Ford will be missed about the G. R. & L. general offices during the session of the Legislature, whither he goes to preside over the Senate cloak room for the fourth time. Joe is a general favorite with the Senators, and the prospects for his holiday are favorable.

DIED.

PIERSON.—Mrs. Elmina Pierson, Dec. 22, aged 66 years.

Funeral at the residence of Dr. C. W. Prindle, 94 Fourth street, Wednesday at 2 o'clock. Friends of family invited.

Piano to be Given Away.

It has been stated by certain competitors through advertisements and in conversation with people that the Sohmer piano is a "second-class" and an "inferior" instrument. In order to give them a chance to substantiate these statements publicly I will make the following offer:

If these parties will bring competent authority and proof that the Sohmer is not a "first-class" piano in tone, action, material, workmanship and durability—in fact in every respect—I will give the finest piano at my store to a worthy musical society of this city free of charge.

This offer I will hold open for the next thirty days.

In the meantime I invite the public to call at my store to examine the Sohmer, which is the standard of excellence.
